American Culture for Young Professionals at Michigan State University English Language Center

American Culture for Young Professionals is a three-week program. Students in this program will experience and learn American culture on the university campus, in the local community, and through travel to other communities and events. This cultural involvement will help students become familiar with and comfortable in the host culture and the English language.

The program takes place on the beautiful Michigan State University (MSU) campus in East Lansing, Michigan and is administered by MSU's English Language Center (ELC). The ELC has over 50 years of experience working with international students and designing interesting and engaging programs for students. The ELC faculty design programs that take students to a greater understanding of culture and language by engaging the students in the culture and with people in creative and interesting ways.

Students will receive about 25 hours of cultural workshops as well as business seminars throughout the program. Students will also participate in field trips to locations of cultural interest, and they will have lots of opportunities to interact with other students at MSU.
